

TRUEWAVES, Things we don't see

Life surrounds us with things we don't see. Things that can be our motivation, pleasure or desolation. They can affect us in so many different ways. Make us happy, sad, sick or strong. Sometimes you can smell them as if a time machine has transported you back to a moment. These things can often be our lost ones who are always there right beside us. But what if they were things we could touch, fight or cherish? Things we could learn to control and live amongst. We would be reaching out to a world we'd never seen. These things are called TRUEWAVES.